Your First Step Toward Recovery

What to Expect During Medical Detox

Starting treatment can feel overwhelming, especially when you don't know what to expect. Here's a look at how ThriveNow Recovery Centers supports you through medical detox stabilization and prepares you for the next step in recovery.

Your Medical Detox Journey

01

Getting Started

Your journey begins with understanding your treatment needs. The ThriveNow team helps guide you through the next steps and determine whether medical detox stabilization is appropriate.

02

Withdrawal Management

During detox stabilization, the focus is on managing withdrawal symptoms and supporting your comfort and safety. Medication may be incorporated into your care when clinically appropriate.

03

Whole-Person Support

Recovery involves both physical and mental health. ThriveNow incorporates a holistic approach, including access to individual and group therapy and relapse prevention support.

04

Personalized Treatment

A dedicated treatment team helps guide your recovery process, addressing your individual needs and preparing you for the next stage of treatment.

05

Transitioning to Residential Treatment

Once you've completed the necessary steps for your level of care and are ready, you may transition into short-term residential treatment to continue building social, coping, and life skills.
